INDEX TO VOLUME CXLIII.

Abbott, S. W. The coroner system in the United States at the close of the nineteenth century, 418.

Abdomen. Remarks upon obscure non-traumatic tumors of the lower abdomen suddenly appearing where none had previously been detected, Richardson, M. H., 333, 345; a case of inflamed peritoneal cyst simulating ovarian cyst with twisted pedicle, Vietor, A. E., 339, 346; patient after thoracoplasty for sarcoma, probably of the diaphragmatic pleura, Munro, J. C., 344; patient after pyloroplasty, Munro, J. C., 344; vaginal versus abdominal hysterectomy, Walker, H. O., 607.

Accidents of summer, 95.

Achard, C. The diagnosis of renal insufficiency, 239.

Achlorhydria, its effects and their treatment, Hewes, H. F., 447, 452.

Actinomycosis. Porter, C. A., 251, 263; four cases of actinomycosis, Munro, J. C., 255, 263.

Adiposis Dolorosa. Autopsy of a case of adiposis dolorosa, with microscopical examination, Dercum, F. X., 295.

Africa. British medical arrangements in South Africa, 69; conditions in South Africa, Doyle, A. C., 99.

Age. Old age as a cause of death, 46.

Allen. An unusual form of tumor of the scalp, 10.

Allen, C. W. Two cases of rhinoscleroma, 10.

Altitude. The hygiene of high altitudes, 223.

Ambler, C. P. Pulmonary tuberculosis, present condition of cases treated during 1898 and reported last year at the Columbus meeting, 15.

Anders, J. M. Diagnosis and treatment of prebacillary stage of pulmonary tuberculosis, 15.

Anesthesia. Anesthesia by subarachnoid injections of cocaine in the lumbar region, Severeanu, 325; bronchial diseases not invariably a contraindication for ether anesthesia in abdominal surgery, Reamy, T. A., 376; intradural injections of cocaine for surgical anesthesia, 509; spinal anesthesia, 636; the neurophysiological aspect of the subject, Corning, J. L., 636; spinal analgesia in general surgery, Fowler, G. R., 636; obstetrical and gynecological aspect of the subject, Marx, S., 637; intraspinal cocainization from the anesthetist's standpoint, Goldan, S. O., 638.

Angell, E. B. Imperative ideas in the sane and their management, 265.

Animals. Report of the committee on animal diseases and animal food, Salmon, D. E., 587.

Annus Medicus, 661.

Arizona. The climatology of Arizona, Duffield, W., 17.

Army. The so-called "poisoned bullet," Makins, G. H., 246; the annual report of the Surgeon-General of the Army, 434; gunshot injuries by the rifles of reduced calibre, La Garde, L. A., 439; suicide and homicide, U. S. Army, 18 8-1897, 1898 and 1899, 540; the army bill and the Medical Department, 643.

Arsenic in manufactures, 413.

Austin, A. E. A new test meal, 467.

Autopsies and physical examinations, Harris, R. O., 420.

Babinski phenomenon, 329.

Bacillus. Morbid conditions caused by bacillus aërogenes capsulatus, Welch, W. H., 73.

Baker, C. S. Christian pseudoscience and psychiatry, 265.

Barbers. The spreading of disease in barber shops, Watts, H. F. R., 148.

Barker, L. F. The anatomicocytological relationship of the neuron to disease of the nervous system, 297.

Baruch, S. Hydrotherapy in pneumonia, 389.

Basch. Pulmonary edema, 241.

Bellevue Hospital. The proposed change in the control and management of Bellevue Hospital, 613.

Benedict, A. L. Ethnology and archeology at the Pan-American Exposition, 72.

Bergmann, E., von. Progress in the treatment of fractures since the introduction of the Röntgen rays, 271.

Beri-Beri. The etiology of beri-beri, 565.

Bias in clinical medicine, Bury, J. S., 512.

Bibliography. Baker, W. M., and Harris, V. D., Kirkes' handbook of physiology, 481; Ballenger, W. L., eye, ear, nose and throat, 641; Böhm, A. A., and von Davidoff, M., a textbook of histology, 661; Boston City Hospital, annual report, 411; Bracken, H. M., disinfection and disinfectants, 564; Bryant, J. D., operative surgery, 377; Butlin, H. T., and Spence, W. G., diseases of the tongue, 663; Buxton, D. W., anesthetics, their uses and administration, 271; Cabot, R. C., physical diagnosis of diseases of the chest, 640; Cheyne, W. W., a manual of surgical treatment, 243; Collins, J., the treatment of diseases of the nervous system, 18; Cooke, J. B., a manual of obstetrical technique as applied to private practice, 119; Coplin, W. M. L., manual of pathology, including bacteriology, 563; Deaver, J. B., a treatise on appendicitis, 327; surgical anatomy, 562; Dorland, W. A. N., the American illustrated dictionary, 641; Duane's medical dictionary, 378; Dunham, E. K., normal histology, 168; Dürck, H., atlas and epitome of special pathological histology, 68; Eckley, W. T., and Eckley, C. D., practical anatomy, 300; Egbert, S., a manual of hygiene and sanitation, 612; Einhorn, M., diseases of the intestines, 94; Fenwick, E. H., ulceration of the bladder, simple, tuberculous and malignant, 640; French, E. C., food for the sick and how to prepare it, with a chapter on food for the baby, 94; Friedrich, E. P., rhinology, laryngology and otology, and their significance in general medicine, 662; Gardner, C. F., the care of the consumptive, 664; Gould, G. M., the student's medical dictionary, 588; Grassi, B., la malaria propagata exclusivamente da peculiari zanzare, 460; Green, T. H., pathology and morbid anatomy, 612; Grimwald, L., a treatise on nasal suppuration or suppurative diseases of the nose and its accessory sinuses, 483; Halliburton, W. D., Kirkes' handbook of physiology, 482; Hedley, W. S., therapeutic electricity and practical muscle testing, 168; Heissler, J. C., Heissler's embryology, 378; Hemmeter, J. C., diseases of the stomach, their special pathology, diagnosis and treatment, with sections on anatomy, physiology, chemical and microscopical examinations of stomach contents, dietetics, surgery of the stomach, etc., 94; Hillier, A., tuberculosis, its nature, prevention and treatment, 143; His, W., handatlas der anatomie des menschen, 611; Howard, L. O., notes on the mosquitoes of the United States, 460; Hyde, J. N., syphilis and the venereal diseases, 484; Ingalls, E. F., diseases of the chest, throat, and nasal cavities, 484; international medical annual synoptical index to remedies and diseases, 68; Jardine, R., practical textbook of midwifery for nurses and students, 120; Kayser, R., anleitung zur diagnose und therapie der kehlkopf-, nasen- und ohrenkrankheiten, vorlesungen gehalten in fortbildungscursen für practische aerzte, 611; King, A. F. A., a manual of obstetrics, 120; Kleen, E., diabetes mellitus and glycosuria, 67; Korschelt, E., and Heider, K., embryology and invertebrates, 351; Lee, A. B., the microtomist's vade-mecum, 327; Leroy, L., Saunders' question compends, 508; Lester, J. C., and Gomez, V., ear records, 432; Letchworth, W. P., care and treatment of epileptics, 94; Levy, E., and Klemperer, F., elements of clinical bacteriology, 508; Lloyd, J. U., Stringtown on the pike, 641; Lutaud, A., manuel complet de gynécologie médicale et chirurgicale, 44; Macpherson, J., mental affections, 485; Martin and Rockwell's chemistry and physics, 351; May, C. H., manual of the diseases of the eye, 432; McFarland, J., a textbook upon the pathogenic bacteria, 563; Medical News visiting list for 1901, 611; Moody, S. E., essentials of medical and clinical chemistry with laboratory exercises, 460; Nancrede, C. B., lectures upon the principles of surgery, 327; Newman, G., bacteria, 193; Nichols, J. B., and Vale, F. P., histology and pathology, 378; Norris, W. E., and Oliver, C. A., system of diseases of the eye, 43; Notter, J. L., and Horrocks, W. H., the theory and practice of hygiene, 564; O'Brien, H. J., medical and surgical nursing, 460; Paget, S., experiments on animals, 564; Pantaloni, J., chirurgie du foie et des voies biliaires, 663; Park, R., a treatise on surgery by American authors, 144; Pick, T. P., surgery, 327; Potts, C. S., nervous and mental diseases, 19; Powell, W. M., Saunders' pocket medical formulary, 588; Robinson, B., colpoperineorrhaphy, and the structures involved, 378; Salinari, S., le lesioni traumatiche dei centri nervosi, 18; Salinger, J. L., modern medicine, 612; Saunders' question compends, 193, 326; Schaeffer, O., atlas and epitome of gynecology, 243; Schede, M., congenital dislocation of the hip, 44; Scott, L., the clinical examination of urine with an atlas of urinary deposits, 460; Scudder, C. L., and Cotton, F. J., the treatment of fractures, 326; Shurly, E. L., a treatise on diseases of the nose and throat, 483; Simon, C. E., a manual of clinical diagnosis by microscopical and chemical methods, 94; Smith, E. N., paralytic deformities of the lower extremities, 44; Smith, F. J., introductions to the outlines of the principles of differential diagnosis, with clinical memoranda, 43; Spalteholtz, W., hand atlas of human anatomy, 611; Stedman, T. L., twentieth century practice, 484; Steel, G., the physical signs of pulmonary disease, 663; Stengel, A., a textbook of pathology, 563; Summers, J. E., the modern treatment of wounds, 144; Taylor, R. W., a practical treatise on genito-urinary and venereal diseases and syphilis, 662; Thompson, W. G., a textbook of practical medicine, 588; Tuttle, G. M., diseases of children, 19; Warner, F., the nervous system of the child, its growth and health in education, 19; Warren, J. C., surgical pathology and therapeutics, 243; Warthin, A. S., a blank book for autopsy protocols, 193; Wells, W. H., quiz compends, 327; Wilson, G. R., clinical studies in vice and in insanity, 664.

Bichat, X. The strange adventures of an anatomist's head, 616.

Biography. Acland, H. W. D., 464; Acton, R., Jr., 570; Arcularius, A., 48; Ashurst, J., Jr., 71; Bartlett, B. W., 276; Bell, W. H., 466; Bigelow, H. J., 485; Booth, F., 223; Brown, J. M., 304; Browning, W. W., 384; Burns, J. F., 172; Chenery, E., 148; Curley, P. F., 646; Curry, J. H., 356; Cutler, J. L., 438; Cutter, E. J., 489; Da Costa, J. M., 303, 380; DeMund, F. C., 570; Edwards, T. P., 48; Elliott, G. H., 674; Eveleth, P., 24; Forrest, R. F., 332; Fruitnight, J. H., 674; Gould, L. M., 384; Graves, F. W., 331; Hanks, H. T., 570; Hornbeek, S. E. D., 384; Kidder, M. W., 196; Larkin, W. R., 438; Lincoln, R. P., 592; McGuire, H. H., 332; Milbury, F. S., 248; Munn, W., 384; Noyes, H. D., 541, 615; Purple, S. S., 354; Robbins, J. H., 224, 248; Ryan, J. F., 248; Sayre, L. A., 331, 540; Sibley, W. A., 490; Skene, A. J. C., 47; Smith, F., 414; Squibb, E. R., 466, 488; Stille, A., 332; Stokes, W., 196; Sullivan, J. L., 276; Taft, C. S., 674; Turnbull, L., 465; Ward, W. S., 276; Waterman, W. B., 223; White, M. C., 463; Zabriskie, W. A., 490.

Bishop, L. F. A clinical study of myocarditis, 14.

Blackader, A. D. Enteric fever in childhood, 458.

Blake, J. B. Colostomy for obstruction due to malignant disease, 6; the results of operations on varicose veins, 598.

Bloch, O. The treatment of infected wounds, 299.

Boland, E. S. Immediate repair of perineal tears, 185, 189.

Bottomley, J. T. The operative treatment of tuberculous peritonitis, 617.
Bowditch, V. Y. Effects of dust upon the lungs, 108, 116.
Bowen, J. T. Bullous dermatitis (dermatitis herpetiformis) in children, 7; report on dermatology, 314.
Bracken, H. H. Report of the committee on national leper home, 586.
Bradford, E. H. Congenital dislocation of the hip joint, 415.
Bradford, E. H., and Cotton, F. J. Treatment of Pott's disease after the development of the deformity, 277.
Breast. Results of the operative treatment of cancer of the breast, Gage, H., 203; irritable breasts, or chronic lobular mastitis, Cabot, R. C., 555, 557.
Briggs, F. M. A case of contracting scar of the palm of the hand remedied by a flap from the abdomen, 422.
Bronson, E. B. Malignant diseases of the skin, their classification and clinical features, 9.
Brooks, W. A., Jr. Removal of the greater part of stomach for carcinoma, closure of the pyloric end, anastomosis between jejunum and cardiac end, recovery, 424.
Brown, F. T. The best method for obtaining urine direct from the ureters for diagnostic purposes, 346.
Brown, T. B. The agglutination by the patient's serum of the bacteria found in cystitis and pyelitis, with a consideration of the pleomorphism of the bacteria found in these infections, especially as regards chromogenic properties of the staphylococci, 473.
Bryce, P. H. Address before American Public Health Association, 561.
Bryson, J. P. Chronic unilateral pyelonephritis and its pathogenic relation to disease of the opposite kidney, 320; the differential diagnosis of circumscribed lesions of the upper, middle and lower parts of the ureter, 348.
Buck, A. W. Criminal neglect, report of a case, 502, 508.
Bullet. The so-called "poisoned bullet," Makins, G. H., 246.
Burke, W. E. A prolific woman, 100.
Burr, C. W. A case of multiple sclerosis with autopsy, 298.
Burrage, W. L. The remote results of conservative operations on the ovaries and tubes, 374; a modification of the old Sims needle forceps, 604.
Burrell, H. L. Address before the Suffolk District Medical Society, 536.
Burrell, H. L., and Cushing, H. W. Report on progress in surgery, 139, 161, 187, 209.
Burt, S. S. Purpura hemorrhagica, or morbus maculosus of Werlhof, 441.
Bury, J. S. Bias in clinical medicine, 512.
Cabot, A. T. Some observations upon hydronephrosis, 321; address before the Suffolk District Medical Society, 531.
Cabot, R. C. Irritable breasts, or chronic lobular mastitis, 555, 557.
Cæsarean Section. A case of Cæsarean section, Kittredge, J., 35; the treatment of placenta previa by Cæsarean section, with report of a successful case, Donoghue, F. D., 571, 582.
Caille, A. Clinical observations upon the operative treatment of tuberculous peritonitis, 430; sudden death from perforation of trachea and bursting of caseous gland, 432.
Cancer. A review of recent studies on the nature and origin of cancer, Warren, J. C., 25; the early diagnosis of laryngeal cancer and the treatment, Mackenzie, J. N., 64; statistics relating to the treatment of cancer by the different methods, Delavan, D. B., 65; results of the operative treatment of cancer of the breast, Gage, H., 203; surgery of cancer, Faure, J. L., 325; cancer of the cheek, Morestin, M., 326.
Car Sanitation. Woodbridge, S. H., 559.
Ceccherelli, A. Surgery of the pancreas, 267.
Celluloid as material for flat foot supports, Freiberg, A. H., 471.
Chadwick, J. R. Address before the Harvard Medical Alumni Association, 42.
Chairs. The injurious effects of improperly constructed school chairs, Stone, J. S., 206, 212; a chair devised to meet the anatomical requirements, Miller, E. F., 212.
Championniere, L. Massage and movement in the treatment of fractures, 217.
Cheever, D. W. Address before the Harvard Medical Alumni Association, 36; address before the Suffolk District Medical Society, 533.
Chemistry. Report upon physiological chemistry, Hewes, H. F., 234.
Children. Acute dilatation of the heart in influenza of children, Forchheimer, F., 135; the ambulatory and hospital management of the gastro-intestinal derangements of infancy in the summer months among the poor of large cities, Koplik, H., 429; intestinal obstruction through a loop formed by Meckel's diverticulum with ligamentous attachment, Snow, I. M., 429; pancreatic digestion of casein, Rachford, B. H., 430; clinical observations upon the operative treatment of tuberculous peritonitis, Caille, A. 430; the treatment of hydrocephalus by craniectomy, Davis, E. P., 431; nephritis of influenza in children, Freeman, R. G., 431; congenital cardiac malformation with endocarditis and anuria, Cotton, A. C., 432; sudden death from perforation of trachea and bursting of caseous gland, Caille, A., 432; report on the diseases of children, Rotch, T. M., 449; enteric fever in childhood, Blackader, A. D., 458; a case of rhachischisis, Rotch, T. M., 458; a fatal post-otitic cerebral abscess with amnesic aphasia, Fruitnight, J. H., 458.
China. The medical situation in China, 68.
Cholera as a pyogenic disease, 23.
Christian Science. Christian pseudoscience and psychiatry, Baker, E. S., 265.
Churches. The hygiene of churches, 328.
Circulatory System. The relative importance of valvular and muscular lesions of the heart, Solis-Cohen, S., 13; a clinical study of myocarditis, Bishop, L. F., 14; a plea for a more rational prognosis in cardiac affections, Morrissey, J. J., 14; a case of mural endocarditis, Williams, H., 33; myocarditis, Musser, J. H., 92; myocarditis in infancy and childhood, Koplik, H., 93; acute dilatation of the heart in influenza of children, Forchheimer, F., 135; a needle in the heart, 275; recent progress in thoracic diseases, Sears, G. G., and Bartol, J. W., 290; pericardotomy through the thoracic insertion of the rectus abdominis, Voïnitch-Sianojentzky, A., 325; case of patent foramen ovale in advanced life, Worcester, W. L., 342; suppurative pericarditis and its surgical treatment, Porter, C. B., 385; physiological dilatation and the mitral sphincter as factors in functional and organic disturbances of the heart, Prince, M., 423; congenital cardiac malformation with endocarditis and anuria, Cotton, A. C., 432; pericarditis with effusion, Sears, G. G., 595, 605; the results of operations on varicose veins, Blake, J. B., 598; leucocyte count in serous pleurisy, Morse, H. L., 605.
Clark, J. P. Cyst of the vocal cord, 556.
Climate. The climatology of Arizona, Duffield, W., 17.
Cocainism. Crothers, T. W., 454.
Codman, E. A. A study of the x-ray plates of one hundred and forty cases of fracture of the lower end of the radius, 305, 318.
Coleman, W. Kirkes' physiology, a reply, 541.
Collins, J. Clinical study of the reflexes, 295.
Corlett, W. T. The prevalence of parasitic diseases of the skin and measures necessary to limit their spread, 8.
Corning, J. L. The neurophysiological aspect of spinal anesthesia, 636.
Coroners. The coroner system in the United States at the close of the nineteenth century, Abbott, S. W., 418.
Cotton, A. C. Congenital cardiac malformation with endocarditis and anuria, 432.
Cotton, F. J. Recurrent luxation of the ulnar nerve, 111; subperiosteal fractures, 553, 558.
Councilman, W. T. Address before the Harvard Medical Alumni Association, 38.
Courtney, J. W. A case of morbid fear, 5.
Cremation. Another argument for cremation, 301.
Crothers, T. D. Cocainism, 454; curability of inebriety by medical treatment, 610.
Cumston, C. G. General remarks on the pathology and symptomatology of acute pelvic suppurative processes in the female and their treatment by posterior colpotomy, 51,59; calcium hydrosulphate paste as a surgical epilatory, 275; neoplasms of the thyroid gland, 651, 664.
Cushing, E. W, Hysterectomy for myoma in America, 183, 191.
Cutaneous System. Address before the American Dermatological Association, Stelwagon, H. W., 7; two cases of persistent exfoliation of the lips, Stelwagon, H. W., 8; bullous dermatitis (dermatitis herpetiformis) in children, Bowen, J. T., 7; loss of hair, Jackson, G. T., 7; an unusual phenomenon of syphilis, othematoma, Zeisler, J., 7; a case of Brocq's erythrodermie pityriasique en plaques disseminées, White, J. C., 8; the prophylaxis and control of leprosy in this country, Morrow, P. A., 8; the prevalence of parasitic diseases of the skin and measures necessary to limit their spread, Corlett, W. T., 8; the etiology and pathology of cutaneous cancer, Ravogli, A., 8; malignant diseases of the skin; their classification and clinical features, Bronson, E. B., 9; etiology and pathology, Hartzell, M. B., 9; treatment, Shepherd, F. J., 9; a case of nevus cancer, metastasis, operation, cure, Pollitzer, 10; syphilitic lesions of the "wheal" type, Klotz, H. G., 10; endothelioma of the skin developing in the scar tissue of lupus vulgaris, angiosarcoma of the skin, Fordyce, J. A., 10; two cases of rhinoscleroma, Allen, C. W., 10; an unusual form of tumor of the scalp, Allen, C. W., 10; a case of xanthoma tuberculatum diabeticorum, showing rapid disappearance of lesions under antidiabetic regimen and treatment, Sherwell, S., and Johnston, J. C., 11; blastomycetic dermatitis and its relation to yaws, Dyer, I., 11; cutaneous diseases accompanying diabetes, Hartzell, M. B., 16; method of staining the elastic fibres of the skin, Meek, E. R., 23; the Finsen treatment of lupus, 171; notes on dermatitis venenata, Harding, G. F., 227; report on dermatology, Bowen, J. T., 314; unusual prevalence of impetigo contagiosa, White, J. C., 645.
Cutler, E. G. Joseph W. England's fat-free tincture of digitalis, 283, 293.
Davenport, F. H. The use of the angiotribe, 4, 11; the mortality of hysterectomy for fibroids, 181, 190; intra-abdominal amputation of the uterus; a modification of hysterectomy, 375.
Davis, E. P. The treatment of hydrocephalus by craniectomy, 431; treatment of the patient during the weeks preceding the expected confinement, 454.
Davis, L. Statistics of operative treatment of thyroid tumors, 649, 661.
DeBlois, T. A. Fractures of the nose, 63.
Delavan, D. B. Statistics relating to the treatment of cancer by the different methods, 65.
Denny, F. P. Diphtheria bacilli in healthy throats and noses, with report of cases, 515.
Dercum, F. X. Autopsy of a case of adiposis dolorosa, with microscopical examination, 295.
Diabetes. Diagnosis of diabetes, Herrick, J. B., 16; mortality from diabetes mellitus in the city of New York during the decade 1889-99, Stern, H., 16; cutaneous diseases accompanying diabetes, Hartzell, M. B., 16.
Digestive System. Colostomy for obstruction due to malignant disease, Blake, J. B., 6; purgation with opium, Wainwright, J. W., 160; a case of volvulus complicated by peritonitis; operation; recovery, Giddings, W. P., 160; bacteriology of acute tropical dysentery, Flexner, S., 223; treatment of mucomembranous colitis, Mathieu, A., 240; the radical cure of hernia, Warren, J. C., 249, 264; post-operative hematemesis, Winslow, K., 313; intestinal and gastro-intestinal anastomoses, Roux, 322; exploratory operations on the stomach, Maylard, A. E., 323; gastro-enterostomy, Monprofit, A., 324; patient after pyloroplasty, Munro, J. C., 344; an operation for primary vaginal carcinoma, applicable also to cancer of the rectum in women, Pryor, W. P., 373; fecal fistulæ, Stone, I. S., 373; the relationship between dysmenorrhea and appendicitis, McLaren, A., 376; removal of the greater part of stomach for carcinoma; closure of the pyloric end; anastomosis between jejunum and cardiac end; recovery, Brooks, W. A., Jr., 424; the ambulatory and hospital management of the gastro-intestinal derangements of infancy in the summer months among the poor of large cities, Koplik, H., 429; intestinal obstruction through a loop formed by Meckel's diverticulum with ligamentous attachment, Snow, I. M., 429; pancreatic digestion of casein, Rachford, B. K., 430; clinical observations upon the operative treatment of tuberculous peritonitis, Caille, A., 430; eye strain as a cause of gastro intestinal neuroses, Smithwick, M. P., 444, 453; a note on rectal feeding in peptic ulcer, Sears, G. G., 446, 452; achlorhydria; its effects and their treatment, Hewes, H. F., 447, 452; observations upon the symptoms and treatment of hyperacidity of the stomach, Hewes, H. F., 550, 556; obstipation, Taylor, S. B., 609; influences of digestion on animal heat processes, Reichert, E. T., 617; two cases of perforating duodenal ulcer with subphrenic abscess, Pegram, J. C., Jr., 658.

Digitalis. Joseph W. England's fat-free tincture of digitalis, Cutler, E. G., 283, 293.

Diphtheria. Observations on an outbreak of diphtheria, 274; diphtheria bacilli in healthy throats and noses, with report of cases, Denny, F. P., 515; Newark's diphtheria antitoxin plant, Herald, H. C. H., 561; a plea for larger doses of antitoxin in the treatment of diphtheria, McCollom, J. H., 627.

Donaldson, H. H. The pysiological significance of the size and shape of the neuron, 296.

Donoghue, F. D. The treatment of placenta previa by Cæsarean section, with report of a successful case, 571, 582.

Doyle, A. C. Conditions in South Africa, 99.

Doty, A. H. New quarantine methods and changes which are called for in marine sanitation, 560.

Duffield, W. The climatology of Arizona, 17.

Dust. Asphalt pavements; their nature and desirability, Richardson, C., 101; the transportation of disease by dust, Ernst, H. C., 107; effects of dust upon the lungs, Bowditch, V. Y., 108; the effects of dust on the upper respiratory tract, Langmaid, S. W., 110; the dust problem and asphalt paving, 247.

Dyer, I. Blastomycetic dermatitis and its relation to yaws, 11.

Dysentery. Bacteriology of acute tropical dysentery, Flexner, S., 223.

Ear. A brief report of a case of cerebral abscess of otitic origin; operation; death, Richards, G. L., 159.

Editorials. The pollution of water supplies, 20; the Boston Floating Hospital, 21; the Fourth of July and tetanus, 21; the Harvard Medical Alumni Association, 44; the penalties of the Fourth of July, 45; old age as a cause of death, 46; the medical situation in China, 68; British medical arrangements in South Africa, 69; the accidents of summer, 95; the need of practical laboratory methods of instruction, 95; the sanitation of Boston schools, 96; progress in the treatment of insanity, 120; post-graduate study, 121; medical literature, 144; the Red Cross in China, 145; American routine; German originality, 169; oral sepsis a possible cause of disease, 169; the intradural injection of cocaine, 193; State health inspectors, 194; Dr. Elliston's address before the British Medical Association, 220; hysteria an organic disease, 221; penalties of progress, 244; theory and practice, 272; as to professional visits, 272; the Galveston disaster, 273; another argument for cremation, 301; solitary imprisonment, 301; the hygiene of churches, 328; the Babinski phenomenon, 329; the opening of the medical schools, 352; the New York State Hospital for consumptives, 353; specialism in medicine, 379; plague, 410; annual report of the Boston City Hospital, 411; physicians as speakers, 433; the annual report of the Surgeon-General of the Army, 434; sanatoria for pulmonary tuberculosis, 461; recent researches in yellow fever, 462; Henry Jacob Bigelow, 485; a new employment for women, 486; intradural injections of cocaine for surgical anesthesia, 509; prizes as a stimulus to research, 510; newspaper medicine, 537; the United States tax on legacies to educational, charitable and religious organizations, 538; Thanksgiving Day, 565; the etiology of beri-beri, 565; oysters and disease, 588; revision of charter of city of New York, 589; the Third Pan-American Medical Congress, 589; the proposed garbage plant on Long Island, Boston Harbor, 612; the proposed change in the control and management of Bellevue Hospital, 613; the third Pan-American Medical Congress, 613; peripheral neuritis due to arsenic in beer, 614; twentieth century cerebral physiology, 642; the army bill and the Medical Department, 643; newspaper exaggeration, 644.

Edson, C. E. The importance of rest in pulmonary tuberculosis, 15.

Education. Harvard Medical Alumni Association, 36, 44; the need of practical laboratory methods of instruction, 95; the sanitation of Boston schools, 96; post-graduate study, 121; a method of teaching practical medicine, Harrington, T. F., 256; the opening of the medical schools, 352; the endowment of professional schools, Ross, J. H., 436; classical education for medical students, 464.

Elevator Disease, 513.

Elgin, F. W. Influence of temperature on vaccine virus, 561.

Elliston, W. A. Some incidents in the evolution of the modern physician, 220.

Enebuske, C. J. Chronic diffuse interstitial nephritis, 518, 528.

Enteric Fever in childhood, Blackader, A. D., 458.

Epidemic. Report of the committee to define what constitutes an epidemic, Lee, B., 586.

Ernst, H. C. The transportation of disease by dust, 107, 116; the progress of medicine, 130.

Examining Board. The true function of the State Medical Examining Board, Memminger, A., 88.

Eye. Power of the eye, 196; recent progress in ophthalmology, Standish, M., and Hall, W. D., 342, 369; lesion of chiasm; temporal hemiopia, optic atrophy; probable pituitary tumor, with gigantism and defective development, Lord, S. A., 365; eye strain as a cause of gastro-intestinal neuroses, Smithwick, M. P., 444, 453; a case of alexia, mind blindness, etc., with autopsy, Jack, E. E., 577.

Farenholt, A. Three cases of gunshot wounds, 503.

Farlow, J. W. A case of ozena of probably sphenoidal origin, 66.

Faure, J. L. Surgery of cancer, 325.

Fear. A case of morbid fear, Courtney, J. W., 5.

Fibroids. Remarks on the surgery of uterine fibroids, with especial reference to the importance of early removal in the young, Richardson, M. H., 1, 12; parturition complicated with suppurating fibroids, Stevens, E. H., 56, 60.

Finsen treatment of lupus, 171.

Fisher, E. D. Address before American Neurological Association, 264.

Flexner, S. Bacteriology of acute tropical dysentery, 223.

Floating Hospital. The Boston Floating Hospital, 21.

Food. Milk; its production, its care, its use, Rotch, T. M., 49; the modification of milk in milk laboratories, Rotch, T. M., 357, 372; breast feeding, Worcester, A., 361, 371; home modification of milk, Townsend, C. W., 363, 372; a new test meal, Austin, A. E., 467.

Foramen Ovale. Case of patent foramen ovale in advanced life, Worcester, W. L., 342.

Forchheimer, F. Acute dilatation of the heart in influenza of children, 135.

Fordyce, J. A. Endothelioma of the skin, developing in the scar tissue of lupus vulgaris, angiosarcoma of the skin, 10.

Fourth of July and tetanus, 21; the penalties of the Fourth of July, 45.

Fowler, G. R. Spinal analgesia in general surgery, 636.

Fractures. Massage and movement in the treatment of fractures, Championnière, L., 217; radiography in the study of fractures and of luxations, Maunoury, G., 270; progress in the treatment of fractures since the introduction of the Röntgen rays, Bergmann, E., von, 271; the study of the x-ray plates of one hundred and forty cases of fracture of the lower end of the radius, Codman, E. A., 305, 318; subperiosteal fractures, Cotton, F. J., 553, 558.

Freeman, R. G. Nephritis of influenza in children, 431.

Freiberg, A. H. Celluloid as material for flat-foot supports, 471.

Freudenthal, W. In what relation does occupation stand to tuberculosis? 15.

Fruitnight, J. H. A fatal post-otitic cerebral abscess with amnesic aphasia, 458.

Fuller, E. Anteroposterior subdivision of the bladder, an important anomaly, 347.

Fuller, G. W. Report of the committee on pollution of water supply, 562.

Gage, H. Results of the operative treatment of cancer of the breast, 203; traumatic joints, 309.

Galveston Disaster, 273.

Garland, G. M. Report of the Committee on the Harvard Medical School, 37.

Generative System. Remarks on the surgery of uterine fibroids, with especial reference to the importance of early removal in the young, Richardson, M. H., 1, 12; cysts in the abdominal wall structurally identical with ovarian cysts, Homans, J., 34; general remarks on the pathology and symptomatology of acute pelvic suppurative processes in the female and their treatment by posterior colpotomy, Cumston, C. G., 51, 59; glandulopenile hypospadias, two urethras, one extending to the bladder, the other two and one-half inches long and terminating in a blind pouch, Stinson, J. C., 58; the mortality of hysterectomy for fibroids, Davenport, F. H., 181, 190; hysterectomy for myoma in America, Cushing, E. W., 183, 190; a case of parovarian cyst with twist of the pedicle occurring during the fourth month of pregnancy, operation, recovery, normal delivery at term, Lund, F. B., 208; two cases of abnormal sexual development, Sears, G. G., 232, 238; a critical review of thirty cases of pyosalpinx, Whiteside, G. S., and Walton, W. J., 310; prostatic deformities due to loss of tissue, Guiteras, R., 348; primary cancer of the prostate, King, E. E., 348; the evolution of my technique in the treatment of fibroid uterine growths, Kelly, H. A., 375; an appreciation of Kelly's method of removing fibroids of the uterus, Smith, A. L., 375; intra-abdominal amputation of the uterus; a modification of hysterectomy, Davenport, F. H., 375; the relationship between dysmenorrhea and appendicitis, McLaren, A., 376; the internal secretion of the ovary, Johnstone, A. J., 377; technique, indications and ultimate results of suturing the round ligaments to the vaginal walls for retroversions and flexions of the uterus, Vineberg, H. N., 377; recent progress in genito-urinary surgery, Watson, F. S., and Thorndike, P., 425; the management of abdominal testicular ectopia associated with inguinal hernia, Powers, C. A., 475; vaginal versus abdominal hysterectomy, Walker, H. O., 607; cancer of the uterus, Sutton, R. S., 608; remarks upon questions arising during the removal of fibroids, with especial reference to the technique of the operation, Richardson, M. H., 619, 636.

Giddings, W. P. A case of volvulus complicated by peritonitis; operation; recovery, 160.

Goitre. Exophthalmic goitre, Osborne, O. T., 17.

Goldan, S. O. Intraspinal cocainization from the anesthetist's standpoint, 638.

Goldthwait, J. E. Knee-joint surgery for non-tubercular conditions, 286.

Gorgas, W. C. Vital statistics of Havana, 568.

Gout. Pathogeny of gout, Le Gendre, P., 218.

Grant, J. Address before the New York State Medical Association, 453.

Green, C. M. The value of the hot-water immersion bath in the treatment of threatening puerperal eclampsia, 624, 635.

Greenleaf, R. W. The psychic factor in disease, 155, 166.

Guiteras, R. Prostatic deformities due to loss of tissue, 348.

Gunshot Wounds. Gunshot injuries by the rifles of reduced calibre, La Garde, L. A., 439; three cases of gunshot wounds, Farenholt, A., 503; general remarks on gunshot wounds of 1898 and 1899, 512.

Gynecology. Recent progress in gynecology, Reynolds, E., 258; an operation for primary vaginal carcinoma, applicable also to cancer of the rectum in women, Pryor, W. P., 373; the remote results of conservative operations on the ovaries and tubes, Burrage, W. L., 374; the evolution of my technique in the treatment of fibroid uterine growths, Kelly, H. A., 375; an appreciation of Kelly's method of removing fibroids of the uterus, Smith, A. L., 375; intra-abdominal amputation of the uterus; a modification of hysterectomy, Davenport, F. H., 375; the relationship between dysmenorrhea and appendicitis, McLaren, A., 376; the internal secretion of the ovary, Johnstone, A. J., 377; technique, indications and ultimate results of suturing the round ligaments to the vaginal walls for retroversions and flexions of the uterus, Vineberg, H. N., 377; vaginal versus abdominal hysterectomy, Walker, H. O., 607.

Hair. Loss of hair, Jackson, G. T., 7; an improvement in instrument and method for removing superfluous hair by the electric method, Pomeroy, H. S., 527.

Hand. A case of contracting scar of the palm of the hand remedied by a flap from the abdomen, Briggs, F. M., 422.

Hanley, J. J. An imposter, 276.

Harding, G. F. Notes on dermatitis venenata, 227.

Harrington, T. F. A method of teaching practical medicine, 256.

Harris, M. L. A new electrocystoscope, 347; a cystoscope for the catheterization of both ureters, 347.
Harris, R. O. Autopsies and physical examinations, 420.
Hartzell, M. B. Malignant diseases of the skin, their etiology and pathology, 9; cutaneous diseases accompanying diabetes, 16.
Hatch, E. S. Tendon suture, 256, 264.
Havana. Vital statistics of Havana, Gorgas, W. C., 568.
Heart. A needle in the heart, 275.
Hematemesis. Post-operative hematemesis, Winslow, K., 313.
Hernia. The radical cure of hernia, Warren, J. C., 249, 264.
Heroin. A contribution to the therapeutic action of heroin, Lazarus, B., 600.
Herold, H. C. H. Newark's diphtheria antitoxin plant, 561.
Herrick, J. B. Diagnosis of diabetes, 16.
Hewes, H. F. Report upon physiological chemistry, 234; achlorhydria; its effects and their treatment, 447, 452; observations upon the symptoms and treatment of hyperacidity of the stomach, 550, 556.
Higgins, F. A. Report on progress in obstetrics, 634.
Hip. Congenital dislocation of the hip joint, Bradford, E. H., 415.
Hoffman, F. L. The practical use of vital statistics, 653.
Homans, J. Cysts in the abdominal wall structurally identical with ovarian cysts, 34.
Hopkins, F. E. Secondary hemorrhage after the use of suprarenal extract, 65.
Horlbeck, H. B. Report of the committee on the etiology of yellow fever, 561.
Hospitals. The Boston Floating Hospital, 21; hospital statistics, 247.
Hydrotherapy in pneumonia, Baruch, S., 389.
Hygiene, Health and Boards of Health. The pollution of water supplies, 20; the sanitation of Boston schools, 96; State health inspectors, 194; the hygiene of churches, 328; public health laboratories, Smith, T., 491; car sanitation, Woodbridge, S. H., 559; new quarantine methods and changes which are called for in marine sanitation, Doty, A. H., 560; report of the committee on cause and prevention of infectious diseases, Suiter, A. W., 560; etiology of yellow fever, Reed, W., 560; report of the committee on the etiology of yellow fever, Horlbeck, H. B., 561; influence of temperature on vaccine virus, Elgin, F. W., 561; Newark's diphtheria antitoxin plant, Herold, H. C. H., 561; presidential address, Bryce, P H., 561; report of the committee on the pollution of water supply, Fuller, G. W., 562; teaching of hygiene and granting of degrees of doctor of public health, Johnston, W., 562; vital statistics of Havana, Gorgas, W. C., 568; report of the committee on disinfection, Robinson, F. C., 585; report of the committee to define what constitutes an epidemic, Lee, B., 586; report of the committee on national leper home, Bracken, H. H., 586; report of the committee on animal diseases and animal food, Salmon, D. E., 587; the proposed garbage plant on Long Island, Boston Harbor, 612.
Hysteria an organic disease, 221.
Imposter, Hanley, J. J., 276.
Imprisonment. Solitary imprisonment, 301.
Infectious Diseases. Report of the committee on cause and prevention of infectious diseases, Suiter, A. W., 560.
Insolation catastrophe at Aldershot, 71.
Instruments and Appliances. The use of the angiotribe, Davenport, F. H., 4, 11; the modern urethroscope, Otis, W. K., 321; the best method for obtaining urine direct from the ureters for diagnostic purposes, Brown, F. T., 346; a new electrocystoscope, Harris, M. L., 347; a cystoscope for the catheterization of both ureters, Harris, M. L., 347; a ureter cystoscope (for male or female) built on a new model, Lewis, B., 347; a new spinal jacket, Tracy, E. A., 522; an improvement in instrument and method for removing superfluous hair by the electric method, Pomeroy, H. S., 527; a modification of the old Sims needle forceps, Burrage, W. L., 602.
Jack, E. E. A case of alexia, mind blindness, etc., with autopsy, 577.
Jackson, G. T. Loss of hair, 7.
Jeffries, B. J. Address before the Suffolk District Medical Society, 530.
Johnston, S. Address before the American Laryngological Association, 63.
Johnston, W. Teaching of hygiene and granting of degrees of doctor of public health, 562.
Johnstone, A. J. The internal secretion of the ovary, 377.
Joints. Traumatic joints, Gage, H., 309; to what extent does "rheumatic and gouty diathesis" enter into traumatic joints (sprains and bruises), septic and gonorrheal joints, acute articular rheumatism, neuropathic joints, arthritis deformans (osteoid, rheumatoid), as an etiological factor? What is the scientific basis for such a term? Porter, W. H., 391; septic and gonorrhea joints, Porter, C. A., 401; neuropathic joints, Lord, S. A., 406; congenital dislocation of the hip joint, Bradford, E. H., 415.
Jonnesco, T. Surgical treatment of hydatid cysts of the liver, 325.
Joslin, E. P. Recent progress in therapeutics, 477, 504.
Kelly, H. A. The evolution of my technique in the treatment of fibroid uterine growths, 375.
Keyes, E. L. The therapeutics of urotropin, 347.
King, E. E. Primary cancer of the prostate, 348.
Kirkes' physiology, a reply, 569.
Kittredge, T. A case of Cæsarean section, 35.
Klotz, H. G. Syphilitic lesions of the "wheal" type, 10.
Knapp, P. C. Recent progress in neurology, 89, 113.
Knee. Knee-joint surgery for non-tubercular conditions, Goldthwait, J. E., 286.
Koplik, H. Myocarditis in infancy and childhood, 93; the ambulatory and hospital management of the gastro-intestinal derangements of infancy in the summer months among the poor of large cities, 429.
Laboratory. The need of practical laboratory methods of instruction, 95; public health laboratories, Smith, T., 491.
La Garde, L. A. Gunshot injuries by the rifles of reduced calibre, 439.
Langmaid, S. W. The effects of dust on the upper respiratory tract, 110, 116.
Lannelongue, M. Farewell address before the Thirteenth International Medical Congress, 349.
Larynx. Address before the American Laryngological Association, Johnston, S., 63; the early diagnosis of laryngeal cancer and the treatment, Mackenzie, J. N., 64; statistics relating to the treatment of cancer by the different methods, Delavan, D. B., 65.
Lazarus, B. A contribution to the therapeutic action of heroin, 600.
Learned, J. B. "The new method of inducing sleep without drugs." One hundred dollar prize, 47.
Lee, B. Report of the committee to define what constitutes an epidemic, 586.
Legal Medicine. Arsenic in manufactures, 413; the coroner system in the United States at the close of the nineteenth century, Abbott, S. W., 418; autopsies and physical examinations, Harris, R. O., 420; the co-operation of the medical and legal professions, Sanderson, G. A., 499, 506; criminal neglect; report of a case, Buck, A. W., 502, 508; the duties of the medical examiner in Massachusetts, Mead, J. A., 574.
Le Gendre, P. Pathogeny of gout, 218.
Lemke, A. F. Tuberculosis of the lungs, 15.
Leprosy. The prophylaxis and control of leprosy in this country, Morrow, P. A., 8; lepers in France, 172; report of the committee on national leper home, Bracken, H. H., 586.
Leszynsky, W. M. Spasmodic wry neck and its treatment, 592.
Lewis, B. The pathogeny of gonorrheal nephritis, 321; a ureter cystoscope (for male or female) built on a new model, 347.
Lips. Two cases of persistent exfoliation of the lips, Stelwagon, H. W., 8.
Literature. Medical literature, 144.
Liver. Surgical treatment of hydatid cysts of the liver, Jonnesco, T., 325.
Logan, J. E. Atrophic rhinitis, 64.
London. Letter about Paris and London, 382.
Lord, S. A. Lesion of chiasm; temporal hemiopia, optic atrophy; probable pituitary tumor, with gigantism and defective development, 365; neuropathic joints, 406.
Love, I. N. Address before Mississippi Valley Medical Association, 608.
Lund, F. B. A case of parovarian cyst with twist of the pedicle occurring during the fourth month of pregnancy; operation; recovery; normal delivery at term, 208; acute hemorrhagic pancreatitis, its surgical treatment, with report of six cases, 543.
Mackenzie, J. N. The early diagnosis of laryngeal cancer and the treatment, 64.
Macleod, K. The scope and aim of the section's work, 225.
Macy, W. A. Observations on an outbreak of diphtheria, 274.
Makins, G. H. The so-called "poisoned bullet," 246.
Marcy, A., Jr. Movable kidney from the standpoint of the general practitioner, 17.
Marx, S. Obstetrical and gynecological aspect of spinal anesthesia, 637.
Massage. Massage and movement in the treatment of fractures, Championnière, L., 217; massage in Japan, Wood, H. C., 568.
Materia Medica and Therapeutics. Silver injection treatment of pulmonary consumption, Mays, T. J., 15; purgation with opium, Wainwright, J. W., 160; the intradural injection of cocaine, 193; calcium hydrosulphate paste as a surgical epilatory, Cumstom, C. G., 275; Joseph W. England's fat-free tincture of digitalis, Cutler, E. G., 283, 293; anesthesia by subarachnoid injections of cocaine in the lumbar region, Severeanu, 325; serum therapy in pneumonia, Smith, W. H., 340; the therapeutics of urotropin, Keyes, E. L., 347; hydrotherapy in pneumonia, Baruch, S., 389; recent progress in therapeutics, Joslin, E. P., 477; intradural injections of cocaine for surgical anesthesia, 509; a contribution to the therapeutic action of heroin, Lazarus, B., 600; the neurophysiological aspect of spinal anesthesia, Corning, J. L., 636; spinal analgesia in general surgery, Fowler, G. R., 636; obstetrical and gynecological aspect of spinal anesthesia, Marx, S., 637; intraspinal cocainization from the anesthetist's standpoint, Goldan, S. O., 638.
Mathieu, A. Treatment of mucomembranous colitis, 240.
Maunoury, G. Radiography in the study of fractures and of luxations, 270.
Maylard, A. E. Exploratory operations on the stomach, 323.
Mays, T. J. Silver injection treatment of pulmonary consumption, 15.
McCollom, J. H. A plea for larger doses of antitoxin in the treatment of diphtheria, 627.
McLaren, A. The relationship between dysmenorrhea and appendicitis, 376.
McLean, M. Contribution to the management of face presentations, with report of two cases, 376.
Mead, J. A. The duties of the medical examiner in Massachusetts, 574.
Measles. A case of measles, period of incubation, Smithwick, M. P., 465.
Medicine. The progress of medicine, Ernst, H. C., 130; medicine as a science and medicine as an art, Pye-Smith, P. H., 173.
Meek, E. R. Method of staining the elastic fibres of the skin, 23.
Memminger, A. The true function of the State Medical Examining Board, 88.
Meyer, A. The city and its consumptive poor, a plea for a municipal sanatorium outside of the corporate limits, 479.
Milk. Milk; its production, its care, its use, Rotch, T. M., 49; the modification of milk in milk laboratories, Rotch, T. M., 357, 372; breast feeding, Worcester, A., 361, 371; home modification of milk, Townsend, C. W., 363, 372.
Miller, E. F. A chair devised to meet the anatomical requirements, 212.
Mills, C. K., and Keen, W. W. Tumor of the superior parietal convolution accurately localized and removed by operation, 266.
Mind. A case of morbid fear, Courtney, J. W., 5; progress in the treatment of insanity, 120; the psychic factor in disease, Greenleaf, R. W., 155, 166; Christian pseudoscience and psychiatry, Baker, S., 265; report on progress in mental diseases, Stedman, H. R., 579, 602.
Monprofit, A. Gastro-enterostomy, 324.
Moorhouse, G. W. Feeding in typhoid fever, with a report of cases, 494.
Morrissey, J. J. A plea for a more rational prognosis in cardiac affections, 14.

Morrow, P. A. The prophylaxis and control of leprosy in this country, 8.
Morse, H. L. Leucocyte count in serous pleurisy, 605.
Mouth. Oral sepsis a possible cause of disease, 169; cases of acute oral inflammation, Munro, J. C., 597.
Moyer, H. N. Address before Mississippi Valley Medical Association, 607.
Munro, J. C. Four cases of actinomycosis, 255, 263; patient after thoracoplasty for sarcoma, probably of the diaphragmatic pleura, 344; patient after pyloroplasty, 344; cases of acute oral inflammation, 597.
Musser, J. H. Myocarditis, 92.
Myocarditis. Myocarditis, Musser, J. H., 92; myocarditis in infancy and childhood, Koplik, H , 93.
Nervous System. Lesions of the cauda equina and conus medullaris, Sippy, B. W., 17; the Fourth of July and tetanus, 21; recent progress in neurology, Knapp, P. C., 89, 113; recurrent luxation of the ulnar nerve, Cotton, F. J., 111; the psychic factor in disease, Greenleaf, R. W., 155, 166; a brief report of a case of cerebral abscess of otitic origin; operation; death, Richards, G. L., 159; hysteria an organic disease, 221; address before the American Neurological Association, Fisher, E. D., 261; Christian pseudoscience and psychiatry, Baker, S., 265; imperative ideas in the sane and their management, Angell, E. B., 265; a case of Wernicke's conduction aphasia, with autopsy, Pershing, H. T., 265; a case of bullet wound in the spinal cord, Sailer, J., 267; tumor of the superior parietal convolution accurately localized and removed by operation, Mills, C. K., and Keen, W. W , 266; clinical study of the reflexes, Collins, J., 295; autopsy of a case of adipos s dolorosa, with microscopical examination, Dercum, F. X., 295; the anatomicocytological relationship of the neuron to disease of the nervous system, Barker, L. F., 296; the pathological changes in the neuron in nervous disease, Spiller, W. G , 296; how does the doctrine affect the conception of nervous disease? Sachs, B., 296; the physiological significance of the size and shape of the neuron, Donaldson, H. H., 296; clinical and anatomical analysis of cases of diffuse degeneration, Putnam, J. J., and Taylor, E. W., 297; section of the posterior spinal roots for relief of pain in a case of neuritis of the brachial plexus ; cessation of pain in affected region ; later development of Brown-Séquard paralysis in area and pain in other areas as result of laminectomy, Prince, M., 297; revised interpretation of the central fissures of the educated suicide's brain exhibited to the association in 1894, Wilder, B. G., 298; a case of malaria presenting the symptoms of multiple sclerosis, with necropsy, Spiller, W. G., 298; a case of multiple sclerosis, with autopsy, Burr, C. W., 298; two cases of tumor of the spinal cord, Thomas, J. J., 298; lesion of chiasm ; temporal hemiopia ; optic atrophy ; probable pituitary tumor, with gigantism and defective development, Lord, S. A., 365; the treatment of hydrocephalus by craniectomy, Davis, E. P., 431; eye strain as a cause of gastro intestinal neuroses, Smithwick, M. P., 444, 453; a case of alexia, mind-blindness, etc., with autopsy, Jack, E. E., 577; peripheral neuritis due to arsenic in beer, 614; case of myasthenia gravis pseudoparalytica, Paul, W. E., 632; the neurophysiological aspect of spinal anesthesia, Corning, J. L., 636; spinal analgesia in general surgery, Fowler, G. R., 636; obstetrical and gynecological aspect of spinal anesthesia, Marx, S., 637; intraspinal cocainization from the anesthetist's standpoint, Goldan, S. O., 638; twentieth century cerebral physiology, 642.
Newspaper. Newspaper medicine, 537; newspaper exaggeration, 644.
New York. New York State Hospital for Consumptives, 353; revision of charter of city of New York, 589.
Nose. Fractures of the nose, DeBlois, T. A., 63; atrophic rhinitis, Logan, J. E., 64; secondary hemorrhages after the use of suprarenal extract, Hopkins, F. E., 65; a case of ozena of probably sphenoidal origin, Farlow, J. W., 66.
Orthography. The reform of medical orthography, 489.
Osborne, O. T. Exophthalmic goitre, 17.
Otis, W. K. The modern urethroscope, 321.
Ovary. Cysts in the abdominal wall structurally identical with ovarian cysts, Homans, J., 34.
Oysters and disease, 588.
Pain. Surgical pain, Ryder, G., 149.
Pancreas. Surgery of the pancreas, Ceccherelli, A., 267; report on pancreatic surgery, Robson, M., 268; acute hemorrhagic pancreatitis, its surgical treatment, with report of six cases, Lund, F. B., 543.
Paris. Letter about Paris and London, 382.
Pathology. Some of the pathological problems of the present day, Sanderson, J. B., 216; progress in pathology, Wright, J. H., 524.
Paul, W. E. Case of myasthenia gravis pseudoparalytica, 632.
Pavlov. Experimental therapy as a new and extremely fruitful method of physiological research, 216.
Peck, J. M. Treatment of typhoid fever with bacterial in connection with other agents, 17.
Pegram, J. C., Jr. Two cases of perforating duodenal ulcer with subphrenic abscess, 658.
Pericarditis with effusion, Sears, G. G , 595, 605.
Pershing H. T. A case of Wernicke's conduction aphasia, with autopsy, 265.
Peterson, R. Anastomosis of the ureters with the intestines, an historical and experimental research, 374.
Phthisis, some causes of failure in its climatic treatment, Swan, W. H , 448.
Physiology. Report upon physiological chemistry, Hewes, H. F., 234.
Placenta Previa. The treatment of placenta previa by Cæsarean section, with report of a successful case, Donoghue, F. D., 571, 582.
Plague. Rats and plague, 303; plague, 410.
Pollitzer. A case of nevus cancer, metastasis, operation, cure, 10.
Pomeroy, H. S. An improvement in instrument and method for removing superfluous hair by the electric method, 527.
Porter, C. A. Actinomycosis, 251, 263; septic and gonorrhea joints, 401.
Porter, C. B. Suppurative pericarditis and its surgical treatment, 385.
Porter, W. H. To what extent does "rheumatic and gouty diathesis" enter into traumatic joints (sprains and bruises), septic and gonorrheal joints, acute articular rheumatism, neuropathic joints, arthritis deformans (osteoid, rheumatoid), as an etiological factor? what is the scientific basis for such a term, 391.
Post-graduate study, 121.
Pott's Disease. Treatment of Pott's disease after the development of the deformity, Bradford, E. H., and Cotton, F. J., 277.
Powers, C. A. The management of abdominal testicular ectopia associated with inguinal hernia, 475.
Pregnancy, affections connected with. A case of Cæsarean section, Kittredge, T., 35; parturition complicated with suppurating fibroids, Stevens, E. H., 56, 60; a prolific woman, Burke, W. P., 100; the average births to each case of triplets, 100; repeated ectopic gestation in the same patient, with operation in each case, Storer, M., 177, 191; immediate repair of perineal tears, Boland, E. S., 185, 189; a case of parovarian cyst with twist of the pedicle occurring during the fourth month of pregnancy, operation, recovery, normal delivery at term, Lund, F. B., 208; contribution to the management of face presentations, with report of two cases, McLean, M., 376; the treatment of placenta previa by Cæsarean section, with report of a successful case, Donoghue, F. D., 571, 582; the value of the hot-water immersion bath in the treatment of threatening puerperal eclampsia, Green, C. M., 624, 635; report on progress in obstetrics, Higgins, F. A., 634.
Prince, M. Section of the posterior spinal roots for relief of pain in a case of neuritis of the brachial plexus, cessation of pain in affected region, later development of Brown-Séquard paralysis in area and pain in other areas as result of laminectomy, 297; physiological dilatation and the mitral sphincter as factors in functional and organic disturbances of the heart, 423, 428.
Prize. The Moscow prize, 319; prizes as a stimulus to research, 510.
Progress. Penalties of progress, 244.
Pryor, W. P. An operation for primary vaginal carcinoma applicable also to cancer of the rectum in women, 373.
Puerto Rico. Some reasons for the high death rate of Puerto Rico, 355.
Purpura hemorrhagica, or morbus maculosus of Werlhof, Burt, S. S., 441.
Putnam, J. J. Notes on the treatment of ataxia patients by coordination exercises, with the demonstration of two patients, 231, 238.
Putnam, J. J., and Taylor, E. W. Clinical and anatomical analysis of cases of diffuse degeneration, 297.
Pye-Smith, P. H. Medicine as a science and medicine as an art, 173.
Pyosalpinx. A critical review of thirty cases of pyosalpinx, Whiteside, G. S., and Walton, W. J., 310.
Quarantine. New quarantine methods and changes which are called for in marine sanitation, Doty, A. H., 560.
Rachford, B. H. Pancreatic digestion of casein, 430.
Railroad. The dangers of the railroad, 196.
Rats and plague, 303.
Ravogli, A. The etiology and pathology of cutaneous cancer, 8.
Read, C. A. L. Necessity for further organization on the part of medical men, 455.
Reamy, T. A. Bronchial diseases not invariably a contraindication for ether anesthesia in abdominal surgery, 376.
Recent Progress. Neurology, Knapp, P. C., 89, 113; surgery, Burrell, H. L., and Cushing, H. W., 139, 161, 187, 209; physiological chemistry, Hewes, H. F., 234; gynecology, Reynolds, E., 258; thoracic diseases, Sears, G. G., and Bartol, J. W., 290; dermatology, Bowen, J. T., 314; ophthalmology, Standish, M., and Hall, W. D., 342, 369; genito-urinary surgery, Watson, F. S., and Thorndike, P., 425; diseases of children, Rotch, T. M., 449; therapeutics, Joslin, E. P., 477, 504; pathology, Wright, J. H., 524; mental diseases, Stedman, H. R., 579, 602; obstetrics, Higgins, F. A., 634.
Red Cross in China, 145.
Reed, W. Etiology of yellow fever, 560.
Reichert, E. T. Influences of digestion on animal heat processes, 617.
Respiratory System. In what relation does occupation stand to tuberculosis? Freudenthal, W., 15; diagnosis and treatment of the prebacillary stage of pulmonary tuberculosis, Anders, J. M., 15; the importance of rest in pulmonary tuberculosis, Edson, C. E., 15; pulmonary tuberculosis; present condition of cases treated during 1898 and reported last year at the Columbus meeting, Ambler, C. P., 15; tuberculosis of the lungs, Lemke, A. F., 15; silver injection treatment of pulmonary consumption, Mays, T. J., 15; effects of dust upon the lungs, Bowditch, V. Y., 108; the effects of dust upon the upper respiratory tract, Langmaid, S. W., 110; acute dilatation of the heart in influenza of children, Forchheimer, F., 135; pulmonary edema, Bason, 241; recent progress in thoracic diseases, Sears, G. G., and Bartol, J. W , 290; serum therapy in pneumonia, Smith, W. H., 340; hydrotherapy in pneumonia, Baruch, S., 386; sudden death from perforation of trachea and bursting of caseous gland, Caille, B., 432; phthisis, some causes of failure in its climatic treatment, Swan, W. H., 448; sanatoria for pulmonary tuberculosis, 461; cyst of the vocal cord, Clark, J. P., 556; leucocyte count in serous pleurisy, Morse, H. L., 605.
Reynolds, E. Recent progress in gynecology, 258.
Rhachi-chisis. A case of rhachischisis, Rotch, T. M., 458.
Rheumatism. To what extent does "rheumatic and gouty diathesis" enter into traumatic joints (sprains and bruises) septic and gonorrheal joints, acute articular rheumatism, neuropathic joints, arthritis deformans (osteoid, rheumatoid), as an etiological factor? what is the scientific basis for such a term? Porter, W. H., 391.
Richards, G. L. A brief report of a case of cerebral abscess of otitic origin, operation, death, 159.
Richardson, C. Asphalt pavements, their nature and desirability, 101, 116.
Richardson, M. H. Remarks on the surgery of uterine fibroids with especial reference to the importance of early removal in the young, 1, 12; remarks upon obscure non-traumatic tumors of the lower abdomen suddenly appearing where none had previously been detected, 333, 345; remarks upon questions arising during the removal of fibroids, with especial reference to the technique of the operation, 619, 636.
Robinson, F. C. Report of the committee on disinfection, 585.
Robson, M. Report on pancreatic surgery, 268.

Roentgen. The study of the x-ray plates of one hundred and forty cases of fracture of the lower end of the radius, Codman, E. A., 305, 318; radiography in the study of fractures and of luxations, Mauncary, G., 270; progress in the treatment of fractures since the introduction of the Röntgen rays, Bergmann, E., von, 271; note on the x-rays as a curative agent in certain diseases of the skin, Williams, F. H., 579.
Ross, J. H. The endowment of professional schools, 436.
Rotch, T. M. Milk; its production, its care, its use, 49; the modification of milk in milk laboratories, 357, 372; report on the diseases of children, 449; a case of rhachischisis, 458.
Routine. American routine, German originality, 179.
Roux. Intestinal and gastro-intestinal anastomoses, 322.
Ryder, G. Surgical pain, 149.
Sachs, B. How does the doctrine affect the conception of nervous diseas ? 196.
Sailer, J A case of bullet wound in the spinal cord, 266.
Salmon, D. E. Report of the committee on animal diseases and animal food, 587.
Sanborn, G. A. The co-operation of the medical and legal professions, 499, 506.
Sanderson, J. B. Some of the pathological problems of the present day, 47.
School. The sanitation of Boston schools, 96; the injurious effects of improperly constructed school chairs, Stone, J. S., 206, 212; a chair devised to meet the anatomical requirements, Miller, E. F., 212.
Scudder, C. L. Acute abdominal symptoms associated with a congenital malformation of a ureter in a child, 348.
Sears, G. G Two cases of abnormal sexual development, 231, 238; a note on rectal feeding in hepatic ulcer, 446, 452; pericarditis with effusion, 595, 605.
Sears, G. G., and Bartol, J. M. Recent progress in thoracic diseases, 290.
Section. The scope and aim of the section's work, Macleod, K., 225.
Serum therapy in pneumonia, Smith, W. H., 340.
Severeanu. Anesthesia by subarachnoid injections of cocaine in the lumbar region, 325.
Shattuck, G. B. Address before the Suffolk District Medical Society, 535.
Shepherd, F. J. Malignant diseases of the skin, their treatment, 9.
Sherwell, S., and Johnston, J. C. A case of xanthoma tuberculatum diabeticorum, showing rapid disappearance of lesions under antidiabetic regimen and treatment, 11.
Sippy, B. W. Lesions of the cauda equina and conus medallaris, 17.
Sleep. "The new method of inducing sleep without drugs," one hundred dollar prize, Learned, J. B., 47.
Smith, A. L. An appreciation of Kelly's method of removing fibroids of the uterus, 375.
Smith, T. Public health laboratories, 491.
Smith, W. H. Serum therapy in pneumonia, 340.
Smithwick, M. P. Eye strain as a cause of gastro-intestinal neuroses, 444, 453; a case of measles, period of incubation, 465.
Snow, I. M. Intestinal obstruction through a loop formed by Meckel's diverticulum with ligamentous attachment, 424.
Societies. American Association of Genito-Urinary Surgeons, 320, 346; American Dermatological Association, 7; American Gynecological Society, 373; American Laryngological Association, 63; American Medical Association, 13; American Neurological Association, 264, 245; American Pediatric Society, 429, 458; American Public Health Association, 558, 585; Boston Society for Medical Improvement, 116, 212, 318, 428, 556; Harvard Medical Alumni Association, 36; International Medical Congress, 191, 216, 239, 267, 294, 322, 349; Maine Medical Association, 141; Massachusetts Medico-Legal Society, 506; Medical Association of the Greater City of New York, 636; Mississippi Valley Medical Association, 607; New York Academy of Medicine, 92, 479; New York State Medical Association, 453; Norfolk District Medical Society, 125; Obstetrical Society of Boston, 11, 371, 635; Pan-American Medical Congress, 589, 592, 613; Suffolk District Medical Society, 59, 166, 189, 238, 263, 293, 344, 452, 527, 530, 582, 605, 661.
Solis-Cohen, S. The relative importance of valvular and muscular lesions of the heart, 13.
Speakers. Physicians as speakers, 433.
Specialism in medicine, 379
Spiller, W. G. The pathological changes in the neuron in nervous disease, 296; a case of malaria presenting the symptoms of multiple sclerosis, with autopsy, 298.
Spine. Treatment of Pott's disease after the development of the deformity, Bradford, E. H., and Cotton, F. J., 277; spinal caries with abscess, analysis of cases, Young, E. B., 470; a new spinal jacket, Tracy, E. A., 522.
Standish, M., and Hall, W. D. Recent progress in ophthalmology, 342, 369.
Statistics. The practical use of vital statistics, Hoffman, F. L., 653.
Stedman, C. E. Norfolk District Records and Reminiscences, 1850–1900, 112.
Stedman, H. R. Report on progress in mental diseases, 579, 602.
Stelwagon, H. W. Address before the American Dermatological Association, 7; two cases of persistent exfoliation of the lips, 8.
Stern, H. Mortality from diabetes mellitus in the city of New York during the decade 1889–99, 16.
Stevens, E. H. Parturition complicated with suppurating fibroids, 56, 60.
Stinson J. C. Glandulopenile hypospadias; two urethras, one extending to the bladder, the other two and one-half inches long terminating in a blind pouch, 58.
Stone, I. S. Fecal fistulæ, 373.
Stone, J. S. The injurious effects of improperly constructed school chairs, 206, 212.
Storer, M. Repeated ectopic gestation in the same patient with operation in each case, 177, 191.
Suiter, A. W Report of the committee on cause and prevention of infectious diseases, 560.
Sunstroke. The insolation catastrophe at Aldershot, 71.
Surgeon of the nineteenth century, Treves, F., 197.
Surgery. Report on progress in surgery, Burrell, H. L., and Cushing, H. W., 139, 161, 187, 209; surgical practice in the country, Sylvester, C. B., 141; surgical pain, Ryder, G., 149.
Sutton, R. S. Cancer o the uterus, 608.
Suture. Tendon suture. Hatch, E. S., 256, 264.
Swan, W. H. Phthisis, some causes of failure in its climatic treatment, 448.
Swinburne, G. K. Bacteria associated with a diverticulum of the bladder, 348.
Sylvester, C. B. Surgical practice in the country, 141.
Syphilis. An unusual phenomena of syphilis, othematoma, Zeisler, J., 7; syphilitic lesions of the "wheal" type, Klotz, H. G., 10.
Tabes Dorsalis in infants, 147.
Tax. The United States tax on legacies to educational, charitable and religious organizations, 538.
Taylor, S. B. Obstipation, 609.
Temperance. A new Scottish temperance society, 569.
Tendons. Tendon suture, Hatch, E. S., 256, 264; transplantation of the tendons in treatment of paralysis, Vulpius, O., 324; tendon suture, Wilcox, T. E., 381.
Tetanus. The Fourth of July and tetanus, 21.
Thanksgiving Day, 565.
Theory and practice, 272.
Therapy. Experimental therapy as a new and extremely fruitful method of physiological research, Pavlov, 216; serum therapy in pneumonia, Smith, W. H., 340.
Thomas, J. J. Two cases of tumor of the spinal cord, 298.
Thyroid Gland. Operative treatment of goitre, Warren, J. C., 647, 661; statistics of operative treatment of thyroid tumors, Davis, L., 649, 661; neoplasms of the thyroid gland, Cumston, C. G., 651, 664.
Tobacco. The use of tobacco on active service, 569.
Tobie, W. E. Some observations on renal casts, 523.
Townsend, C. W. Home modification of milk, 363, 372.
Tracy, E. A. A new spinal jacket, 522.
Treves, F. The surgeon in the nineteenth century, 197.
Tropical Diseases. A hospital for tropical diseases in Liverpool, 124; the scope and aim of the section's work, Macleod, K., 225.
Tuberculosis. In what relation does occupation stand to tuberculosis ? Freudenthal, W., 15; diagnosis and treatment of the prebacillary stage of pulmonary tuberculosis, Anders, J. M., 15; the importance of rest in pulmonary tuberculosis, Edson, C. E., 15; pulmonary tuberculosis; present condition of cases treated during 1898 and reported last year at the Columbus meeting, Ambler, C. P., 15; tuberculosis of the lungs, Lemke, A. F., 15.
Typhoid Fever. Treatment of typhoid fever with bacterial in connection with other agents, Peck, J. M., 17; antityphoid inoculation, Wright, A. E., 99; feeding in typhoid fever, with a report of cases, Moorehouse, G. W., 494.
Urinary System. Movable kidney from the point of the general practitioner, Marcy, A., Jr., 17; glandulopenile hypospadias; two urethras, one extending to the bladder, the other two and one-half inches long, and terminating in a blind pouch, Stinson, J. C., 58; the diagnosis of renal insufficiency, Achard, C., 239; chronic unilateral pyelonephritis and its pathogenic relation to disease of the opposite kidney, Bryson, J. P., 320; some cases of renal surgery, Watson, F. S., 321; some observations upon hydronephrosis, Cabot, A. T., 321; the pathogeny of gonorrheal nephritis, Lewis, B., 321; the modern urethroscope, Otis, W. K., 321; the best method for obtaining urine direct from the ureters for diagnostic purposes, Brown, F. T., 346; a new electrocystoscope, Harris, M. L., 347; a cystoscope for the catheterization of both ureters, Harris, M. L., 347; a ureter cystoscope (for male or female) built on a new model, Lewis, B., 347; anteroposterior subdivision of the bladder; an important anomaly, Fuller, E., 347; prostatic deformities due to loss of tissue, Guiteras, R., 348; primary cancer of the prostate, King, E. E., 348; the differential diagnosis of circumscribed lesions of the upper, middle and lower parts of the ureter, Bryson, J. P., 348; acute abdominal symptoms associated with a congenital malformation of a ureter in a child, Scudder, C. L., 348; bacteria associated with a diverticulum of the bladder, Swinburne, G. K., 348; anastomosis of the ureters with the intestines: an historical and experimental research, Peterson, R., 374; recent progress in genito urinary surgery, Watson, F. S., and Thorndike, P., 425; nephritis of influenza in children, Freeman, R. G., 431; chronic diffuse interstitial nephritis, Enebuske, C. E., 518, 528; some observations on renal casts, Tobie, W. E., 523.
Urotropin. The therapeutics of urotropin, Keyes, E. L., 347.
Vaccination. Influence of temperature on vaccine virus, Elgin, F. W., 561.
Varicose Veins. The results of operations on varicose veins, Blake, J. B., 598.
Vietor, A. C. A case of inflamed peritoneal cyst simulating ovarian cyst with twisted pedicle. 339, 346.
Vineberg, H. N. Technique, indications and ultimate results of suturing the round ligaments to the vaginal walls for retroversions and flexions of the uterus, 377.
Visits. As to professional visits, 272.
Voinitch-Sianojentzky, A. Pericardotomy through the thoracic insertion of the rectus abdominis, 325.
Vulpius, O. Transplantation of the tendons in the treatment of paralysis, 324.
Wainwright, J. W. Purgation with opium, 160.
Walker, H. O. Vaginal versus abdominal hysterectomy, 607.
Warren, J. C. A review of recent studies on the nature and origin of cancer, 25; the radical cure of hernia, 249, 261; address before the Suffolk District Medical Society, 533; operative treatment of goitre, 647, 661.
Water. The pollution of water supplies, 20; examination of drinking water in Illinois, 464; report of the committee on pollution of water supply, Fuller, G. W., 562.
Watson, F. S. Some cases of renal surgery, 321.
Watson, F. S., and Thorndike, P. Recent progress in genito-urinary surgery, 425.
Watts, H. F. R. Spreading of disease in barber shops, 148.
Welch, W. H. Morbid conditions caused by bacillus aërogenes capsulatus, 73.
Werlhof. Purpura hemorrhagica, or morbus maculosus of Werlhof, Burt, S. S., 441.

Wernicke. A case of Wernicke's conduction aphasia, with autopsy, Pershing, H. T., 265.
White, J. C. A case of Brocq's erythrodermie pityriasique en plaques disseminées, 8; address before the Suffolk District Medical Society, 53; unusual prevalence of impetigo contagiosa, 645.
Whiteside, G. S., and Walton, W. J. A critical review of thirty cases of pyosalpinx, 310.
Wilcox, T. E. Tendon suture, 381.
Wilder, B. G. Revised interpretation of the central fissures of the educated suicide's brain exhibited to the association in 1894, 298.
Williams, F. H. Note on the x-rays as a curative agent in certain diseases of the skin, 579.
Williams, H. A case of mural endocarditis, 33.
Winslow, K. Post-operative hematemesis, 313.
Women. A new employment for women, 486.
Wood, H. C. Massage in Japan, 568.
Woodbridge, S. H. Car sanitation, 559.
Worcester, A. Breast feeding, 361, 371.
Worcester, W. L. Case of patent foramen ovale in advanced life, 342.
Wright, A. E. Antityphoid inoculation, 99.
Wright, J. H. Progress in pathology, 524.
Wry Neck. Spasmodic wry neck and its treatment, Leszynsky, W. M., 592.
Yellow Fever. Recent researches in yellow fever, 462; etiology of yellow fever, Reed, W., 560; report of the committee on the etiology of yellow fever, Horlbeck, H. B., 561.
Young, E. B. Spinal caries with abscess: analysis of cases, 470.
Zeisler, J. An unusual phenomenon of syphilis: othematoma, 7.